CAPT. AMUNDSEN LEAVES TONIGHT

Noted Explorer Will Go to Boston to Begin His Lecture Tour.

He Was Greatly Impressed By President Roosevelt In Short Talk.

Following a reception to be tendered him tonight by Dr. L. A. Bauer, of the Carnegie Institution, Capt. Roald Amundsen, the noted explorer, who has been in Washington for several days, will leave for Boston, where he delivers a lecture Monday night similar to the one given before the National Geographic Society last night on "The Northwest Passage."

Captain Amundsen and his brother, Leon Amundsen, were informally entertained today at luncheon by Prof. J. H. Pittman, superintendent of the coast and Geodetic Survey. The luncheon was given at the Congressional Library.

Guest at Dinner Tonight.

This evening Captain Amundsen will be the guest of Dr. Bauer at dinner in the latter's apartments in the Ontario. Following the dinner a reception will be tendered the explorer from 7:30 to 11:30, which will be attended by more than a hundred prominent scientific and business men of Washington. The dinner guests are as follows: Prof. R. F. Woodward, president of the Carnegie Institution; Prof. O. H. Pittman, superintendent of the coast and Geodetic Survey; Prof. Simon Newcomb; Prof. Willis L. Moore, Dr. G. O. Smith, G. H. Grosvenor, G. W. Littlehales, Leon Amundsen, Captain Amundsen, and Dr. Bauer.

"I have been greatly interested in the 'Northwest Passage' has to offer," said today the noted explorer, "and I am certainly glad to be here. I was also greatly impressed with the collection in the Smithsonian Institution. I enjoyed my talk with him very much."

His Lecture Last Evening.

Captain Amundsen's lecture last night before the National Geographic Society on the discovery and perfection of the "Northwest Passage" was replete with tales of thrilling adventure of his three years' stay around the magnetic north pole. The lecture was illustrated with interesting views taken by the exploring party during their long sojourn in the frozen north.

Captain Amundsen, after a lecturing tour through the West, has announced his intention of returning to Washington on December 14 for the purpose of attending the annual dinner of the National Geographic Society.

PRESIDENT HEARS KICK ON SUNDAY BASEBALL

The Rev. Frank Bristol, who has come out in determined opposition to Sunday ball playing in the Navy, called at the White House today, and it is presumed he took up the matter with the President.

"God has only one day a week," said Dr. Bristol, "and I think the Navy might allow him to have it. There is no reason why the sailors can't play ball on any other day in the week."

Nelson Pages Coming Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, who have been spending the week since Tuesday with friends in Virginia, are expected to return to Washington for the season this evening.

OLD STATION KEEPER SEEKS POLICE STATION

Adolph Eckloff, who is seeking by writ of mandamus to force the District Commissioners to grant him a pension under the acts of 1885 and 1891, granting pensions to all retired police officers who had served fifteen years, had a hearing before Justice Anderson today. Eckloff claims that he was one of the first squad of the Metropolitan Police force, serving from 1861 to 1883. He was then off the force temporarily until 1886, when he was placed back as a station keeper, serving until 1896, when he was retired on account of old age. The act of 1885 granted pensions to those serving fifteen years, but from 1886 to 1891 station keepers were not considered regular members of the force, but were made so by act of Congress in February, 1901. It is under this latter act that he seeks a pension.

No imitation of Fels-Naptha will do what the original does.

The washerwoman's scold. Do you know what it is? Did you ever have it?

This time of year the washerwoman's cold is epidemic among women who wash in the old-fashioned way.

Bending over steaming suds opens the pores. Rubbing on the washboard starts perspiration. And sitting in a draft to cool off closes pores and checks perspiration—suddenly.

Next day the washerwoman's cold.

With Fels-Naptha soap there is no boiling nor scalding. No hard-rubbing on the washboard. In half the time and with quarter the labor, the clothes are on the line—cleaner, whiter and sweeter than they ever were before. But cold or lukewarm water should be used.

You will know the genuine Fels-Naptha by the red and green wrapper.

Get genuine Fels-Naptha soap. Imitations are worthless.

Anty Drudge's Cure for Washerwoman's Cold.

Mrs. Hausfrau—"My arms were so tired, I sat on the porch for a few moments to cool off before putting the wash on the line, and here I am with a cold."

Anty Drudge—"It's your own fault. Why don't you wash the Fels-Naptha way? Here you've got to soak your feet an hour in mustard water, and your back's broken, when if you'd soaped your wash with Fels-Naptha, and set it to soak in cold water for half an hour, you'd have been spared the work as well as the cold."

WILL TAFT QUIT FOR ROOSEVELT? NEW SURPRISES

The circumstantial and highly suggestive presentation in The Times last evening, of the views of the increasing number of politicians who believe Secretary Taft will before long take himself out of the race for the Republican Presidential nomination, caused nothing less than a sensation. The article was correctly regarded by careful readers as suggesting a good deal more than it said about the high and important authority on which its statements were based.

The Times' statement of the situation were reproduced in all parts of the country this morning. While its statements were not very cheering to Taft, many of them admitted frankly that there was more truth in the article than was comfortable. They are fearful, and have been fearful for some time, that just such a situation might develop.

Interviews "for Publication."

Washington's impressions about the political trend, based on the interviews of which visiting statesmen deliver themselves at the White House or hotels, frequently vary widely from the conclusions that would be enforced if the expressions of these same statesmen, under other circumstances, could be heard.

Underneath the stereotyped expressions with which public men have discussed the political outlook "for publication" there has been for a long time a tone of increasing conviction that the Taft movement was not making good. Likewise there has been apparent a determination among many Republicans to insist that the President shall quit party and name a candidate for his party, and instead shall yield to the overwhelming wish that he himself be the nominee.

Not Devotion to President.

It is not mere personal devotion to the President, nor yet to his policies, that has caused this movement. There is more selfishness than anything else in it. The country is full of Republicans who want to be re-elected. They don't all like the President, but they are pretty nearly unanimous in the belief that their chances of re-election will be a good deal better if Roosevelt heads the ticket. That's why they want him. The politician who doesn't consider himself in the President's denial class is apt to be pretty earnest about this season, an his Presidential views. His own election is likely to depend on making the party as strong as possible up at the top. The third-term movement is gaining strength since the financial flurry developed. There can be no question about this, after a fair consideration of expressions which come from the press, the public men, and the business men of all parts of the country. The determination of the Democrats to get together around the proposition that Republican mismanagement caused the financial trouble, has given the Republicans real concern. There is better prospect for a united Democracy than in many years, and that prospect is making Republican leaders anxious to have their party name its strongest leader. Which accounts, politicians say, for the growing third-term movement and the subsidence of the Taft candidacy.

Charcoal Stops Gas On Your Stomach.

Wonderful Absorbing Power of Charcoal When Taken in the Form of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

Trial Package Sent Free.

Charcoal, pure, simple charcoal, absorbs 19 times its own volume of gas. Where does the gas go to? It is just absorbed by the charcoal—the gas disappears and there is left a pure, fresh, sweet atmosphere, free from all impurities and germs.

That's what happens in your stomach when you take one or two of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. The most powerful purifiers science has yet discovered.

You belch gas in company, sometimes, by accident, greatly to your own humiliation. That is because there is a great amount of gas in your stomach, and your stomach is fermenting food. Your stomach is not digesting your food properly. Gas is inevitable. Whenever this happens, just take one or two of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges right after eating, and you will be surprised how quickly the gas will act. No more belching; no more sour risings. Eat all you want and what you want, and then if there is any gas going to be formed, one of these wonderful little absorbers, a Stuart Charcoal Lozenge, will take care of it.

And it will do more than that. Every particle of impurity in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away by the charcoal. No one seems to know why it does this, but it does, and does it wonderfully. You notice the difference in your general good feeling, and in the purity of your blood, right away.

You'll have no more bad taste in your mouth or bad breath, either from drinking, eating or smoking. Other people will notice your bad breath quicker than they notice your face. You will breathe pure, fresh and sweet, so when you talk to others you won't disgust them. Just one or two Stuart Charcoal Lozenges will make your breath sweet, and make you feel better all over for it. You can eat all the onions and odorous food you want, and no one can tell the difference.

Besides, charcoal is the best laxative known. You can take a whole boxful and no harm will result. It is a wonderfully easy regulator.

And then, too, it filters your blood—every particle of poison or impurity in your blood is destroyed, and you begin to notice the difference in your face first thing you see your complexion.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made from pure willow charcoal, and just a little honey is put in to make them palatable, but not too sweet.

They will work wonders in your stomach, and make you feel fine and fresh. Your blood and breath will be purified. We want to prove all this to you, so just send for a free sample today. Then after you get it and use it, you will like them so well that you will go to your druggist and get a box of these Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.
